Where Democrats Stand

Recently our telegraph dispatch announced that two Democrats offered resolutions in Congress, openly avowing sympathy with the rebellion, declaring that the war ought not to be prosecuted any longer, and that the independence of the Southern traitors should be immediately recognized These two men are under a solemn oath to support the Constitution of the United States, yet, by their propositions, they boldly and deliberately declare their readiness to trample upon the charter of our national liberties and to destroy the integrity of the Republic They perjure themselves as clearly and decidedly as any of the rebels have done, of course such traitors ought not to be allowed to remain in the councils of the Government and yet when a motion was made to expel them for such gross violation of their duty and their oath, fifty three members of the House—all of them claiming to be Democrats—resisted the measure, and thereby declared that in such expressions of treason, they saw nothing worthy of blame To such base depravity does Democracy bring its adherents! The party professing to worship the Constitution so supremely and to be the only one which can restore the Union, publicly endorses the doctrine that the Government ought to yield to rebellion, and to surrender to treason a portion of the Union! This is the Democratic way of maintaing the Constitution; this is the Democratic mode of restoring the Union Surely such a position ought to startle every loyal man in the land, It makes manifest the purpose—not of a few men like Vallandigham and his clan, but of the whole Northern Democracy, as represented by its party leaders in Congress. There is no longer any doubt as to the object which they have in view It is a full abandonment of the party watchword—which was always false and full of hypocrisy—"the Constitution as it is and the Union as it was," for it overthrows the former, and gives up a large portion of the last, as a free and willing sacrifice to the so-called Confederacy. Will honest men any longer be deceived by such party cries? Will they blindly refuse to see where Democracy is driving them—that it is wholly in the interest of treason and is striving with most intense energy to defeat the Government and to strengthen insurrection and rebellion.

GRAND INDUSTRIAL FAIR FOR THE PACIFIC COAST —The Executive Committee of the Industrial Fair, to be held under the management of the Mechanics' Institute, of San Francisco, have set the time for the opening of the Fair, on the 30th of August next. A sum of $10,000 has been set apart for the erection of the necessary building, which will have a superficial area of about 60,000 feet, and the board of Supervisors of San Francisco have tendered to the Institute, Union Square, as a site, which has been accepted This Square being very central, and bounded by Stockton, Geary, Powell and Post streets, and having two lines of street railroads running by it, is probably the best site that could be chosen for such an exhibition.

The Executive Committee desire to have a fair representation of the resources of all parts and sections of the Pacific coast They propose to set apart for Oregon a special department. Arrangements have been made with the coast steamers to carry articles for exhibition, free of charge, so that parties having articles to exhibit, will be at no expense in forwarding

A committee will be appointed in Portland and Salem, to facilitate the collecting and transporting with care and expedition to San Francisco,

Thus far we have been advised by the Vice President of the Mechanics' Institute, who is on his way to Victoria, and on his return to San Francisco, all necessary circulars will be forwarded to the committee in Portland for the use of this State

We trust and have every reason to believe that Oregon will be fully and fairly represented in the forthcoming Industrial Fair. Our mining interests have increased wonderfully—will compare favorably with any on the coast, and in variety will exceed, as they include gold, silver, copper, iron and coal; the wool growers and woolen mills, turpentine and resin, fruit and vegetables timber and lumber —all we think will stand in fair competition, and if we could send our rivers down there, we would rather beat them

As they particularly invite all inventors, we feel sure that those of Oregon will not be far behind. In the meantime we will keep the public posted on this matter

An Irish judge said, when addressing a prisoner "You are to be hanged, and I hope it will prove a warning to you"

Letter from Eugene City

EUGENE CITY, April 23 1864

ED TH OREGONIAN

Your correspondent takes pleasure in communicating to you that the Oregon Central Military Road Company which was organized one week ago to-day by W H Hanchett and seventeen other corporators with a capital stock of $30,000, this day closed its subscription books the stock having been all taken The route of the road is from Eugene City by the Middle Fork of the Willamette, thence crossing the Cascade Mountains in a southeasterly direction to the Owyhee region This being deemed by many to be a pioneer route for a future railroad connection with the great Pacific Road, Portland will be held exonerated if she manifests some interest in the matter and makes some demonstration in the way of co operating with us in opening the road and hereafter, in urging the stock and thoroughly establishing the enterprise on a permanent basis It may be new to some of your readers that the route of the Pacific Railroad as now projected, makes a grand sweep to the northward, approaching it is said within about sixty miles of the south eastern corner of the State, bringing that point of the road within about six hundred and fifty miles of Portland

Politics are stirring the people up considerably as election day approaches Parties seem to be dividing and subdividing among themselves, but will probably draw true to the line at the polls There is a large assemblage of people here to day Gen Lane having been announced to speak more people together than I have seen in this town for a long time The General however did not arrive at least your correspondent failed to get a sight at him Chadwick and Thayer made the principal speeches of the occasion so I was told

Court has been in session during the week, though but a small amount of business seems to have been transacted Splawn was convicted of an assault only and fined $250 dollars One divorce suit only on the docket Judge Stratton presided with his usual urbanity of manner, and appears good for another six years term if he wins the election

Mr Henderson is southward canvassing, and is expected here next week, and apropos, Mrs Thayer is announced to speak here on Tuesday night next

The weather is warm and beautiful but dry Farmers begin to look anxiously for rain, though crops are quite promising

COMUS

INHUMAN BARBARITIES OF THE REBELS —A correspondent of the Chattanooga Gazette furnishes the following horrible account of rebel cruelties practiced upon an Alabama Unionist

In 1861 a Unionist was forcibly arrested by a mob at a house in Randolph County, Alabama and marched off in an adjoining thicket The mob here rifled him of his pocket book, boots and coat, tied him and held a consultation to determine his fate It was soon determined to "put him in the tory stocks," but, first of all, to try and make him acknowledge to having done and said things of which he was innocent

After trying some time to accomplish their object, by questioning and threatening they resorted to more severe measures Untying him, they took off his clothing, laid him down upon a log, lashed him firmly to it, and with large hickory switches commenced lacerating him Four let in on him at once, and their number soon increased to six The continued to beat on him for a long time, pausing occasionally and asking him if he would confess, and upon his refusing would let in on him more vigorously.

The blood trickled down from his back in streams His appeals in behalf of mercy were totally disregarded Nature finally yielded, and the poor man swooned and was lost to consciousness for several minutes As soon as he revived, these hellish tormentors resumed their tortures They split the ends of green sticks, and twisting them in his hair, and pulling violently caused the most excruciating pain This and other fiendish operations were continued for some time They then cut off all his fingers at the second joint as also his ears, close up to his head

The next step was to cut off his arms at the elbows, and the legs at the knees After this operation the wretched victim fainted, and failing to recover for several minutes, the murderers pronounced him dead and began to prepare to leave, but at this moment their victim showed signs of life.

They now tied a rope around his neck, and hung him to a limb near by, and instantly decamped, leaving him suspended between the heavens and the earth

The third day afterwards the body was discovered, taken down and decently interred by friends

Mr Editor, this is no myth no exaggeration —it is worthy of remark that it is an impossibility to belie a rebel, unless you say he is honest, a gentleman, or a humane being

At the time of the above murder I was engaged in school teaching in Calhoun county, not more than twenty five miles from the murdered man's house and I took considerable pains to find out all about it. You have the result

GOOD ADVICE TO DEMOCRATS FROM ONE OF THEIR OWN FOLKS —The N Y Express, a leading organ of the Democratic party, tells the following wholesome truths, which sound much more like sense than the absurd nonsense, that fills party platforms and overflows from the columns of Democratic presses in Oregon We commend it to the attention of all rational men who do their own thinking

"We can have no peace until the rebel army is conquered and dispersed We are to accept facts as facts and make the best of them We agree in this—to "support the Administration in all constitutional efforts to conquer and disperse the rebel army," and to vote men and money, though we may not always approve of the use made of either," We protest and lament the misuse of power, but with 400 000 men in arms against the Government, no alternative is left but to fight for the Government until the rebellion is subdued and the sober judgment of the people North and South is strong enough to feel and own that affection and interest forbearance and kindness, demand that we shall be again one people"

BRIGHT BRIGHTENING —The Indianapolis Courier says

"We learn from a gentleman who met Jesse D Bright at Kent Station White county a week or ten days since that the distinguished ex Senator has greatly modified his views on the rebellion It was refreshing to hear him talk of the inexhaustible power and resources of the North in connection with the inevitable overthrow of the conspirators He yields to the inexorable logic of events on the slavery question and doubts of the peculiar institution can possibly be restored to its former position and security even in those sections where practical Abolition is not a fact

CAIRO April 21 —The dispatch boat Ge Lyon from Red River brings the following regarding affairs Gen Banks despatch The battle on the 8th was at Sabine The rebels were 25 000 strong On the morning of the 8th Banks sent forward the cavalry to hospitals transports and 10 mag ns from Natchitoches They soon began running along with the enemy, and found them in force at Pleasant Hill The commander of our forces ordered the rebel force to halt and sent a message to that effect and to ask for reinforcements Banks sent word that the enemy had left Grand Ecore with the supply trains which had arrived there with 7 guns which he enemy captured The enemy took the supply trains which had arrived there with a large number of our men and took many prisoners As they approached, Gen Smith's forces which were in front of battle opened fire and a lot the leading troops passed Before the enemy came up Gen Smith charged his line and drove the enemy back Next morning Gen Smith attacked the enemy in force Kirby Smith Taylor Magruder and Holmes driving them back The Union forces took a number of prisoners and killed and wounded more than the rebels in the day before Banks fell back to Grand Ecore, on account of scarcity of rations and sent a message to Admiral Porter 150 miles above to return with transports containing supplies As the boats came down the enemy appeared on the banks of the river, and the stream boat Clara Bell was fired into by them, and the gunboat Fort Hindman sent to her assistance The gunboat Chillicothe and the Ore Je Horton Genesee Valley and the army transport Iroquois joined in them, killing and wounding during two days the 13th and 14th 300 Lut few on the boats were killed or wounded The rebels have sunk the steamer New Falls City formerly a St Louis and New Orleans packet directly across the river, 80 miles below Shreveport The fleet had reached it and had made preparations to blow it up when orders were given to return to Grand Ecore Gen Banks who is at least 2 000 The fighting on both sides was desperate The enemy exhibited the most reckless on the second day A large number of gold officers were slain Our loss in the first day's fight was 250 men 32 cannon and 10 wagons

CHICAGO April 23 —The Richmond Examiner of the 5th says Commissioner Ould has effected a cartel for a complete exchange of prisoners

Letters in regard to the Red river disaster say Great indignation is manifested by several subordinate officers against Gen Banks for the conduct of the battle

Correspondence of Eastern papers received at Cairo report the whole affair a complete defeat, and that Gen Smith only succeeded in saving the army from total destruction

Memphis dates to April 20th state that three regiments under Chalmers encamped near Sommerville on Friday of last week leaving next morning and stopping on Salter bay night at Lagrange. On the same night two more regiments passed through Saulsbury Forrest had not left Jackson but would soon follow with the remainder of his forces The whole body are reported about moving into Alabama to prevent an anticipated Federal movement

NEW YORK April 23 —North Carolina advices to April 17th confirm the report of the rebel attack on Plymouth but no particulars are given.

The Governors of the Western States have modified their requests of the President to call out troops for the defence of the border States. They now limit their request to 100 000 men for six months It is doubtful if it be complied with

The World's special says Direct arrivals from the Army of the Potomac report all quiet as far as known Lee is making demonstrations

Gen Grant has in a letter to the Senate Military Committee expressed a wish for the confirmation of Gen Schofield's nomination to Major Generalship.

The Tribune special says Blair has been ordered by the President to resume command of his corps which will depart to morrow

CAIRO April 21 —Intelligence received from Little Rock, Ark, to the 15th of April says An expedition under Col Clayton consisting of 1 000 infantry five regiments of cavalry and six pieces of artillery had reached Pine Bluff after a raid to Sulphur river Where they encountered a force of rebels 3 000 strong Their first encounter took place near Branchville, where the rebels were defeated after three hours fighting They retreated—our forces following them up to New Mount Elba on the Saline river Next day we occupied the place without resistance Our forces here divided—one detachment crossing the river the other reconnoitering on the side The enemy were found some distance from Mount Elba, having been reinforced and advancing on our forces Hasty preparations for their reception were made by extemporizing fortifications of logs rails, and cotton bales The enemy charged three times, and were repulsed each time Finally they retired, after six hours spent in their efforts to dislodge us Our forces then charged on the rebels scattering them in all direction In this battle and the engagement at Branchville we killed 84, wounded 350 and captured 50 In the meantime the force which had been sent across the river was busy, and returned in the evening, having marched 50 miles during the trip They captured a train of 50 wagons with supplies which was under an escort of 300 rebels The entire train was captured and destroyed and 300 men taken prisoners Over 1,000 horses and mules fell into our hands These movements took place about the 30th of March.

NEW YORK April 23 —Authentic intelligence states the rebels are busily engaged in strengthening the fortifications at Richmond, and the opinion prevails that Lee will fall back there when Grant advances, and no considerable resistance will be made on the Rapidan

Intelligence from New Orleans states that the loss of the 4th division of the 13th Army Corps in the battles on Red river on the 8th were 1,125 killed, wounded and missing Losses of the 3d division of the same corps were 850 No one attaches blame to Ransom or Franklin, the movement which resulted in disaster being contrary to the advice of both these officers They did all that officers could under the circumstances obeying the orders of their superiors Both the 16th and 17th corps with a part of a division of the 13th whipped the rebels badly driving them before for seven miles when they were ordered to retire. Our loss in this department is reported to be 1,000 killed wounding and missing

NEW YORK April 23 —Advices from Hilton Head reports the evacuation of Print Island Fla by our troops, who brought away everything in the shape of military stores and were in motion by the enemy A number of families came away with them.

The transport steamer Governor Shelby was destroyed by a torpedo on the St Johns river on the 15th twelve miles above Jacksonville All officers of the steamer were killed all others aboard were saved. She had no other cargo or passengers.

Joseph G Totten Chief Engineer of the U S Army died yesterday

A special says the people who are predicting an immediate battle in Virginia will doubtless be disappointed unless Gen Lee either advances in force or makes a demonstration towards Pennsylvania

Reports are freely circulated that Grant and Stanton have quarrelled

The Chronicle this morning contains an authoritative denial of the report

PRIVILEGE ALLOWED TO STATE PRISONERS IN NEW YORK BY U S MARSHAL MURRAY —The manner in which Marshal Murray a person having been in fact a traitor in sympathy resisting the draft and fomenting rebellion and insurrection was brought up from Fort Lafayette under orders from Gen Dix and sent before Judge Shipman sitting in the United States District Court Having entered a plea of not guilty the prisoner was assured by Deputy District Attorney that the trial should be brought on at an early day, and thereupon he was sent to prison The reader may remember that John U Andrews was a lawyer who led an abandoned life, that on the morning of the 15th of July last he paraded and led a Seventh avenue mob and incited them to the pillage, arson and murder which they committed on that day and that he was sent to Fort Lafayette and had until yesterday had there awaiting trial He appeared yesterday in prisoner attire and assumed an air of nonchalance that was really refreshing Murray's other prisoners of whom there are three score or more are ordinary blockade runners and merchants who are under arrest for shipping treasonable goods that are contraband of war Their hearing will not probably be set down until the conclusion of the Andrews trial Meantime they are lending a meek optimism to the county jail They pay Mrs Thatcher Lee, Astor House prices, in addition to the workhouse allowance which the Marshal makes for their board while the jail spreads an Astor House table Whether they have learned that the most classic hotels have advanced their demands to $2, 50 a day, and made a corresponding advance in Moore, has not transpired The newspapers all bill Lee as Moore's successor and Phelan & Chandler's best They are not obstemonious and Moore's cuisine will be well stocked with green seal and old Madeira They read the newspapers, the magazines and the History of the Four Kings, and in the perusal of the latter highly entertaining work which always follows a closely contested bout at billiards, is settled at dronings and dozing over its pages as though they were bookworms in the Mercantile Library then make it an occasion of genuine hilarity Recently one of the Marshal's deputies who having previously, in company with other officers shown a number of prisoners the Metropolitan elephant, was on confidential terms with all of the captives, visited them and on entering beheld a Court before which an incarcerated merchant, of whose rudiments Kent and Blackstone had formed a part, was solemnly addressing a Judge and jury while opposing counsel, reporters and clerks were writing their briefs ends off in taking notes Jones the Deputy Marshal—so styled for the sake of euphony —was at once installed on the bench the Judge gravely and gracefully surrendering, and the case was re-opened by the prosecution The prosecuting attorney stated that Dodger, who was deep in the history of the four kings, had purloined his cards with pins and had a wager that he could read them with faces unseen that Dodger had taken that bet, that Roger had also invested with Dodger that while Dodger and Dodger had gone to dine, Roger had made additional pin holes in all of the cards, that Dodger, when put to the test called forty five cards inaccurately, and then, that Roger, having closed a bet with Dodger, called off the entire pack without error winning Dodger's diamonds which that worthy declined to render Hence the suit The defence was that the complainant had been guilty of fraud The foregoing statement having been made, counsel for the defendant who gave notice of a cross suit against the complainant and a bill of impeachment against the Judge, was about to offer a few remarks, when Jones, amid the applause of the Court (which was promptly checked by the Sheriff) declined to hear the other word, and ruled that Dodger and Podger be required to supply Havanas for the jury, and that Roger be mulcted to the tune of a bottle of Holdsick for the Court, which forthwith came instantly Jolly life is it not? The jovial prisoners make the best of it, and look longingly forward to the day when they need not tender a Deputy Marshal a ten thousand dollar bribe for freedom, in one of their number did last week Several of the Marshal's prisoners are bounty brokers, who having realized large profits from the business, have chosen to enter the county jail rather than return the money to the soldiers from whom they received it They have practiced as many frauds upon the Government as upon the soldiers and in this nefarious work they have not wanted aid in high official quarters —Cor Sun Union

AFRAID OF PROGRESS —If some of our very conservative men had been present at the creation, they would have said, "Good God! what is to become of chaos"

These men are so timid as to the improvements, that rather than lose slavery, they would risk a war again, and sacrifice all the interests of the country for its sake They ought to live in "chaos" It is the only locality fit for them

A CARD.

DR L J CZAPKAY begs leave to announce to the public and particularly to his patrons on the Pacific Coast that he is about to close his business with the view of retiring for the present from the arduous labors of his profession

As it is his intention during the ensuing Fall to leave the United States for the purpose of visiting Europe he will not receive any new patients after the first day of July 1864 Those therefore who may desire his services will apply within a reasonable time Dr Czapkay desires to assure those who are now under his care, that they confidently can rely on the attention which his obligations properly and their cases respectively demand Those who hold contracts guaranteeing a cure are hereby requested to report to Dr Czapkay before the first day of June 1864 whether or not they are satisfied that a cure has been effected in their cases respectively All who do not thus report within the time specified will be regarded and treated as cured

In taking leave of his patients and the public Dr Czapkay desires to express his profound gratitude for the extraordinary attentions bestowed upon him, and the confidence reposed in his professional ability

During his residence in California Dr Czapkay has treated successfully numerous cases of chronic and private diseases which is the best guarantee that his system of treatment has been rewarded with a success at once personally gratifying and almost unprecedented in the annals of medicine

Any physician in good standing who may desire to purchase the interest of Dr Czapkay in his Institute, and the good will of his business as may make application on an early day can receive proposals

Address Dr L J CZAPKAY Medical Institute, Sacramento street between Montgomery opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's office San Francisco

MERCHANDISE DIRECT FROM THE EAST —The San Francisco Mercantile Gazette publishes a tabular statement of all the vessels which have cleared from Atlantic ports, with merchandise for the Pacific Coast, yet to arrive, dating from the 10th day of May, 1863, to the 12th day of March 1864 The manifests of cargoes so far as specified, exclusive of Government stores, are given, from which it appears that forty one vessels now on the way, contain an aggregate of 21,213 tons of assorted merchandize A large proportion of these goods must eventually come this way, and as the shipping of the Pacific Coast is continually enlarging, it would seem to be a great source of profit to Oregon merchants if they could have their goods laid down at their own doors direct from Eastern shippers, thus avoiding the additional expense necessary for wharfage, handling and re shipping, at San Francisco When a vessel is once in the trade winds, coming to the coast it is just as easy to make the offing, and come in at the mouth of the Columbia river, as it is to drop into San Francisco Bar The books of the Custom House at Astoria show that the amount of merchandise coming up the Columbia for the past year is equal to about two cargoes a month Taking this for a basis, it shows that vessels loaded, and sent regularly, from New York Boston, or Philadelphia, would become a paying investment for the shippers, and insure Oregon merchants better opportunities for obtaining supplies We look forward to a time when this will be the case, and as we grow up to commercial importance, become a port of entry, and have foreign vessels at our wharves, it will be decidedly an advantage over the present system That we have the wealth, the resources to build upon cannot be disputed, and eventually Portland must become a port of vast consequence There is no room left for a question but that the demand for merchandise of all kinds will be doubled or trebled next year, over any former year on account of the region which must obtain supplies from Portland, and we hope to see our merchants casting about in time to supply the demand We are satisfied that there has never been a time since the settlement of Oregon when a more flattering prospect for the speedy acquisition of wealth has been offered our people, in every branch of the industrial pursuits

DEPARTURE OF THE SIERRA NEVADA —The steamship Sierra Nevada Francis Conner Commander left this port at 10 o'clock last evening, for Victoria and San Francisco The freight list shows a very light amount, but for the season not much is expected to be shipped, 400 boxes of apples, 200 sacks of flour, 100 sacks of bacon 10 cases of merchandize, and 60 head of cattle and hogs comprised the list The shipment of treasure was very fair, amounting in the aggregate to $80,100 00 as follows

Wells Fargo & Co	$45 000 00
Flint Weil & Co.	10 000 00
J Kamm	10 000 00
Ladd & Tilton	8 000 00
Isaac Fenrott	4 500 00
Allen & Lewis	4 000 00
Total	$80 100 00

ANOTHER OLD HOUSE GONE —The long and well established house of A M & L M Starr —identified with the history of Portland—has, as we learn, at last caught the contagion of change The old familiar sign disappears, and in its place will come that of J Friedman & Co, to whom the stove and tin ware business has been transferred Such is life;" there are no better men than Ad and Lu, Portland has no better or more whole-hearted citizens, they have worked hard, made money and earned release from the harassing, daily cares of business May much comfort follow them We hope their successors will win as much esteem, and gain as abundant profits Our friends will not leave Portland, though they cease active participation in business.

NEW BUILDINGS —The contract for erecting the new 3 story brick building, 50 by 100 feet, for Mr J L Parrish, has been let to Mr E M Burton The location, on Front street near Washington, is a very desirable one and the improvement will make a marked difference in that vicinity In connection with this Messrs Cohn & Lyon contemplate adding another story to their building adjoining The work will be commenced in about six weeks

SLIGHTLY TIGHT —A man was "tacking" along Front street day before yesterday, in imitation of an intoxicated cork screw, when he was beset by a score of youngsters, whose pranks the old codger had a great disgust for, and finally drew his revolver in retaliation Fortunately he was too drunk to use it, and letting it fall from his hand one of the boys prevented a tragic ending of the scene by securing the weapon

TOO BAD —The condition of the side walk on the north side of Alder street, between Second and Third, is shameful if not criminal It should be the duty, if not the interest of property holders there, either to furnish pedestrians a safe the roughfare near their premises or have the apology removed

UNITED STATES COURTS —The terms of the United States Courts for the district of Oregon, as fixed by the new act, approved February 19th 1864 are for the Circuit Court, the first Mondays of January, May and September For the District Court the first Mondays of March July and November

CAVED IN —The culvert at the crossing of the Portland and Milwaukie Macadamized Road over a gully near the Penitentiary in this city has been in a bad condition for some time, and finally caved No obstruction was made to travel, and workmen are now employed in repairing it

TREASURE —The amount of treasure received from the upper country last evening by Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, amounted to about $25,000 There was no connection above Walla Walla

WILLAMETTE PRECINCT MEETING —The citizens of Willamette precinct met pursuant to the call and organized by electing Mr C M Barnard as Chairman, and L Rosenthal as Secretary

On motion of S F Barr the meeting proceeded to ballot for delegates to the County Convention when Reuben Inman and John Powell and William Love

The following resolution was adopted

Resolved, That the members of this meeting are entitled to the privilege of nominating a man who will represent the regular nominees on account of personal disappointment

RECORDER'S COURT.—Recorder McCarthy disposed of two cases yesterday as follows Taylor Bates Drunk and disorderly conduct fined $5 and costs in default of payment was sentenced to jail for two days T A Kerr fast driving fined $5 and cost —which was paid.

LIGHT FREIGHTS.—For several days past freights have been light coming down the Willamette The season for larger freights is principally over, but the supply of flour continues good The amount of merchandise daily going up is quite large

ASSESSMENTS —An assessment of twenty five cents on each share of the capital stock of the Santiam Gold and Silver Mining Company has been levied by the Directors, to be paid at the office of the Secretary within thirty days.

STOCK BOATS —The steam or Rescue took in her loading of stock for the Cascades yesterday from East Portland The O S N Co advertise to carry stock to the Cascades at reduced rates, upon their stock boat

OF INTEREST TO LADIES —Every one regards the sewing machine as a blessing to women It has been the saving of much toil misery and probably of life itself The Song of the Shirt is now also left to the more cheering ballad, The Song of the Sewing Machine, has taken its place. We had heard through our lady friends of machines that would stitch, sew, hem and of one that could make a perfect button hole in a garment. We had supposed that perfection had almost been reached knowing that these instruments performed all the necessities in sewing. But it seems they still had the accomplishments to learn. We are led to make these remarks having recently seen some ladies' cloaks elaborately embroidered with this sewing machine The work seemed to excel anything executed by hand labor Being done more rapidly and cheaply executed, the work has a more regular, and consequently a much more beautiful appearance What is most remarkable about this novelty is that the machine which executes this wonderful work manship is the most perfect in all other respects—the embroidering quality being only an addition to its many other qualities of stitching hemming, etc etc Those of our lady readers who wish to view the instrument engaged in its charming accomplishment, can do so by stepping into Messrs Grover & Baker's establishment—New York Home Journal

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST EFFICACIOUS DISinfectant and deodorizer yet discovered It is impossible to open or enter the sick room of a patient suffering from any contagious disease without being affected by the noxious effluvia Many valuable lives are annually sacrificed by the Malignant Diseases that prevail in Hospitals and Private Dwellings for the want of a proper knowledge of the use of Iodine Water Its effects upon the human system are truly wonderful It is attracted to the Lungs Liver Kidneys, Heart Digestive Organs and Glandular System, and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the great instability which have been developed in the investigation it remained almost as less until Dr Piercy Anders a physician and chemist of New York after years of patient labor and experiment discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER

without a solvent. This considered impossible by the scientific world is attested by certificates from Dr J T Chilton of this city and Prof Booth U S Mint Philadelphia The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly" July 6 1850, page 76)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms Consumption Cancer, Heart Liver and Kidney Diseases Rheumatism Neuralgia, Nervous Affections Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine The patient recovers flesh, strength and color hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble he becomes full strong and florid

Good Night and Good Morning

A CHILD'S STORY

A fair little girl sat under a tree
Sewing as long as her eyes could see
Then smoothed her work and folded it right
And said Dear work good night good night

Such a number of rooks came over her head
Crying Caw caw Caw their way to bed
She said as she watched their curious flight
Little black things good night good night

The horses neighed and the oxen low'd
The sheep's Bleat bleat came over the road,
All seeming to say with a quiet delight
Good life is girl good night good night

She did not say to the sun good night
Though she saw him there like a ball of light,
For she knew he had God's time to keep
All over the world never could sleep

The tall pink foxglove bowed his head—
The violets curtsied and went to bed
And good little Lucy laid by her hair
And said on her knees her favor le prayer

And when on her pillow she softly lay
She knew nothing more till again it was day
And all creatures did the beautiful sun
"Good morning good morning our work is begun"

FATHER MATHEW AND HIS CONVERTS —The lower apartment or parlor which was level with the street was converted into a reception room for those who came to take the pledge, and here was the book in which the names were enrolled, and here the pledge was administered It was in this celebrated apartment that scenes such as the following might be daily witnessed

At all hours of the day and evening—often to ten or eleven o clock at night—butchers of ten, twenty, or even thirty, might be seen waiting to be enrolled Some were sober and penitent, others smelling strongly of their recent potations, and ashamed to commit themselves by uttering a word, more, boisterous and rude, their poor wives and mothers endeavoring to soothe and keep them under control

One of this class—a big drawwy fellow, with rough voice, blood shot eyes and tattered clothes—would roar out, "I won't take the pledge I'll be d—d if I do Is it me? What occasion have I for it? I won't demane myself by taking it I always stood treat, and I'll stand it again Me take it! Let me go, woman, I tell you, leave me go!"

"Oh, Patsy, darlin', don't expose yourself You know I'm for your good And what would his reverence say to you if he heard you? Do, alana be quiet, and wait for the holy priest"

"Well, hould off me any way Can't I take care of myself? Can't I do what I like? Who'll dare say I can't?"

"Oh, Patsy, darling! Patsy darling!"

"Let me go, woman!" and bursting away from the trembling hands of the poor creature who struggled to hold the drunken fool, Patsy would make a wild dash to the door, amidst muttered expressions of sympathy, such as "God help you honest woman! 'tis you're to be pitied with that quare man"

"Yes," another would remark, "an' a fine man he is, and a decent man too, if he'd only be sober

But just as Patsy was effecting an escape and swearing that "he never would be the one of his name to demane himself by taking their dirty pledge," he was certain to be arrested by Father Mathew himself, who at a glance knew the nature of the case Catching Patsy with a grasp stronger than that from which he had escaped, Father Mathew would say in a cheerful voice to Patsy, as if that gentleman had come of his own free will to implore the pledge at his hands "Welcome! welcome! my dear Delighted to see you Glad you are come to me You are doing a good day's work for yourself and family You will have God's blessing on your head Poverty is no crime, my dear child it is sin alone that lowers us in the eyes of God Kneel down, my dear (a strong pressure on Patsy's shoulder, under which Patsy reluctantly sits on his knees) and repeat the words of the pledge after me, and then I will mark you with the sign of the Cross, and pray God to keep you from temptation"

What could Patsy do but yield, as that magnetic hand rested affectionately on his tangled locks? And so Patsy's name was added to the long muster roll of the pledged —Father Mathew, a Biography, by John Francis Maguire

YANKEE NOSHUNS —The noshun that skule houses are cheaper than state prizens

The noshun that men are a better krop to raise than any thing else

The noshun that the world is the markit for a man's wits

The noshun that a people who have branes enuff kant be governed by eny body but themselves

The noshun that if you cant make a man think as you do, try and make him do as you think

The noshun that the United States is liable at any time to be doubled, but aint liable at any time to be divided

The noshun that Uncle Sam kan thrash his own children when tha need it, and can thrash the whole world besides when they need it

The noshun that the Yankees are a fore ordained race, and cant be kept from spreading and striking in, any more than turpentine when it wunts gets loce —JOSH BILLINGS

FEMALE ARISTOCRACY —As a class, women are always aristocrats Except in respect of costume, there are no sans culottes among ladies They may talk democracy, but they mean gunocracy or some other form of aristocracy Dr Johnson noticed the same thing in a lady of his acquaintance, who was always prating republicanism "Let us try it," said the Doctor "Here, Madam, is your footman, he is civil and well dressed, let us ask him to dine with us!" The lady rejected the proposal with scorn "That's the way you go," said the Doctor, "you are willing to bring everybody down to your level, but you don't wish to bring anybody up to it" We never heard what the lady said in reply

ECONOMY AS A FINE ART —In the autobiography of Dr Beecher, mention is made of a certain "old Dr , who was so economical that he boasted of having kept all his accounts for thirty years with one quill pen, and said he had thought so closely on the subject of economy that he knew exactly how to lean his arm on the table so as not to take the nap off, and how to set down his foot with the least possible wear to the sole of the shoe"

Papa —"Well, sissy, how do you like your school?"

Sissy —"Oh, so much!"

Papa —"That's right Now tell me what you have learned to day"

Sissy —"I have learned the names of all the little boys"

The following peculiar "notis" was found posted in a little town in Delaware

"REWARD —Lost or strade from the Premuse of the subScriberr, a sheep, all over white one legg was blakk and half his body All pussons shall receive five dols to bring him back He was a she goat"

A Sopeth lady writes thus of gentlemen who use tobacco "May never lady press his lips, him proffered love returning, who makes a furnace of his mouth and keeps his chimney burning may each true woman shun his sight, for fear his fumes would choke her, and none but those who smoke themselves have kisses for a smoker"

H W VETERAN SOLDIERS RIGHTS AND COLLER HEADS!—A rich scene occurred on the 8th inst on the train between Portland and Elliston The cars were running at the rate of twenty miles an hour while the passengers were engaged in conversation as usual when above all the noise was heard the voice of a man who was giving utterance to his feelings by saying that he hoped the Southern Confederacy would be successful in driving back every soldier from Tennessee and that he agreed with the Southern people that they were in the right! This man (?) went on in this treasonable strain until an old veteran soldier who sat near who could restrain himself no longer arose from his seat and asked the Copperhead if he really meant what he said in regard to our country and the soldiers Did he mean to say that the soldiers' answer was just what it was intended to be? in tones The question was repeated in a manner that left no room for doubt as to what was meant by the soldier's answer Another instantly struck the traitor a severe blow in the face, which was returned by a blow from the Copperhead Then the fight became general, and the cowardly traitor was severely punished by the returning veterans of the 4th Maine The latter addressed them By this time a Copperhead in the train will have learned to respect our country's flag and the soldiers who have defended it Immediately after the fight Lincoln's love was expressed pursuant to The soldiers demanded to see the author of that language On being shown his individual the latter remarked to the passengers who had been in the service of our country nearly three years and are now returning to their three years of hard fighting and long and weary marches that will not stop traitors at home to insult our country while we have to do the fighting Now, boys, this rebel must go down on his knees, and ask forgiveness of all present and say that he is sorry for his conduct" Secesh made some signs of resistance, when an old gentleman of eighty years who sat in the same seat jumped up saying 'hold on a minute boys, let me give you more room' The rebel finding resistance useless kneeled down, his hat was taken off, and in this attitude, with bended knee pardon for his treason was asked amid the convulsive laughter of all the passengers We wish it could be added he arose, a better and wiser individual The soldiers who had thus rebuked Copperheadism received the compliments and congratulations of the many ladies present and were invited to remain in the car but they quietly withdrew where they belonged During the scuffle a pane of glass was broken, and when the conductor passed through, one of the veterans asked what was the bill on that broken window, "Never mind about that, if you had broken all the windows in the car in putting out traitors, it would have been all right!" replied the conductor who had seen the performance from the outside of the car We know this man who is referred to as being so disloyal living as he does not a thousand miles from Portland We would advise our hasty friend to turn to St Luke 15th chapter, 18th and 19th verses, read, and follow suit, after doing which we shall have some hope of him yet

HOW EGGS SHOULD BE BOILED.—Everybody knows Mr Charles 'Forbes' Claffey, of the St Nicholas Hotel, New York, and with what grace and courtesy he presides over the gentlemen's great parlor of that establishment—his tasty dress, the grand gold chain, the London made watch (as true as the sun), the brilliant diamond studs, and the glittering ring on the little finger of the right hand He was here last week attired in Ackerman's best, and decorated in Tiffany's brightest, and suffered with us in common, during the recent "cold snap," at the Atlantic Hotel To Mr Forbes Claffey's imagination, the Atlantic hitches He pronounced the beds hard, the heating contrivances of the inn bad, decidedly, and the servants dull He never could get his eggs done to suit him On Friday last he called Apollo "an old darkey, and I stated his grievance 'Here' said he to the servant, 'take my watch, and boil my eggs with it just three minutes" "Yes, mass said Apollo I'll do that sar," and so saying he bounded off to the kitchen In due time he returned, three eggs on one plate and the smoking watch and chain on another plate 'My God, man!' shouted Mr Forbes Claffey what have you done?' 'Jus what de massa tol me I boil dem eggs with it, jus tree minutes, as you said Massa' The guest saw what had happened and the table was in a roar of course Apollo alone stood mute He seemed searching in his stubby imagination for some solution of the sudden merriment of the breakfasting party Mr Forbes Claffey could not refrain from laughing at last, and turning to his neighbor, he said

I am in the condition of the profane man, the tail board of whose cart came out as he was ascending the hill, and spilled his potatoes! There is no use in swearing, I can not do justice to the subject and so saying he pocketed his watch and proceeded to devour his morning meal. —Norfolk, Va., New Regime

A MARRIAGE SCENE —There occurred a case at a marriage scene, while I was at K hall so provokingly droll and amusing that I can never narrate, or call it to mind without laughter At the Wednesday afternoon meeting six or seven couples presented themselves together for marriage Somewhat curious to witness the ceremony I sat by the minister within the desk They stood together, opposite in a line, and when their names were called and hands were to be locked for responding to the marriage vow, one was found without his mate and on the pastor's naturally enough asking for her Oh! says the sans culottes bridegroom with a grave drollery all the more ludicrous for being unmeant, 'E hookomo ana i ona kapa komo ma la puka,' She is at the door putting on her frock!" Thus to tell of his bride before a whole congregation was more than the officiating minister or his friend could bear and keep their countenances A few moments elapsed and Mr Bond and myself exchanged knowing glances as the just now go-less bride came in from her toilet by the meeting house door —Cheeca's Island World
